Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5, 7-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Keigley (5,515,625).

Keigley discloses a combination grapple rake and subsoiling implement including a rake 50, shank sockets 160, subsoiling shanks 164 and removable fasteners 178. Given the structure of Keigley, the claimed method steps would inherently be performed when using the device as disclosed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Keigley (5,515,625) in view of Evans (3,496,844).

Art Unit: 3671

Keigley discloses a combination grapple rake and subsoiling implement as described previously, but lacks the subsoiling shanks comprising at least one wing.

Evans shows that a subsoiling shank having a wing 34 is an equivalent structure known in the art. Therefore, because these two shanks were art-recognized equivalents at the time the invention was made, one of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to substitute a shank having a wing as taught by Evans, for the shank of Keigley.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
